Press Release:

December 26, 2011

CRIME & COFFEE
at
COFFEE PLANTATION Coffeehouse

On Thursday, January 5, 2012 from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m.
COFFEE PLANTATION coffeehouse hosts a scarifying
January evening of crime and coffee, when three of Key West's finest crime story writers read from and discuss their works. Join us, as part of the January Walk on Caroline, for a very special evening of finely brewed coffees, espresso drinks and blood-curdling prose.

Our writer line-up for our Crime & Coffee evening:

Jonathan Woods, author of Bad Juju & Other Tales of Madness and Mayhem and the forthcoming *A Death in Mexico

“Hallucinatory, hilarious, imaginative noir.” - New York Magazine

“Delivers a dance of life and death that soars and plummets like Fred Astaire on methamphetamine.” – Booklist

“A skilled writer, he...emulates Chandler and Hammett with his own off-kilter view of this world.” – Key West Citizen / Solares Hill

Mike Dennis, author of Set Up on Front Street and *The Ghosts of Havana

“Dennis writes true noir.” – Vicki Hendricks, author of *Iguana Love

“[Possesses] a sure knowledge of his setting and characters.”
– Key West Citizen / Solares Hill

“His writing is tight, to the point, like a line drawing...” – Noir Journal

Jessica Argyle, author of *Arrest Me (Before I Write Again)

“Very good on the male point of view (even the dead) and excellent on foreshadowing. I enjoyed every minute.”
– Mark Howell, Editor Solares Hill
